

Another exit: Temporary hiccup

India Equity Research | IT

Mr. Sandeep Dadlani, President & Global Head—Manufacturing and Retail, CPG & Logistics (RCL), Infosys, has put in his papers. The exit, post brief stability in the company's higher management, comes as a surprise as Mr. Dadlani had been recently handed additional responsibility of generating more business from the company's new software solutions, including the AI platform Nia. Though this yet again raises the stability issue as well portends risk of more exits, we believe induction of several high profile executives over the past will help the company seamlessly fill the void. We reiterate that Infosys, equipped with ample margin levers, will outpace peers on the earnings growth front. Maintain 'BUY' with target price of INR1,173.

Unexpected exit

Mr. Dadlani was an integral part of Infosys for the past 16 plus years and his exit is clearly a setback given his strategic portfolio holding and the current headwinds in the IT sector. To take over Mr. Dadlani's roles, while Mr. Karmesh Vaswani, EVP of Manufacturing & RCL, has been promoted as the Global Head of Retail, CPG & Logistics, Mr. Nitesh Banga, SVP of Products & Platforms, will take over as the Global Head of Manufacturing. We believe, Mr. Vaswani and Mr. Banga, by virtue of having held strategic positions in Infosys for about a decade, will ably handle their new roles.

Outlook and valuations: Stability crucial; maintain 'BUY'

With the Indian IT industry undergoing transition, we believe stability within senior leadership is crucial. While Mr. Dadlani's exit may hamper short-term momentum in Manufacturing and the already struggling CPG verticals, we believe lateral promotions of Mr. Vaswani and Mr. Banga along with assistance of other senior executives, will help Infosys tide over the exit. While we will closely monitor the developments in the company, we continue to maintain 'BUY/SO' with a target price of INR1,173. The stock is currently trading at INR952.
