TVS Motors

Accumulate

In line performance; Maintain Accumulate, our preferred pick in 2W

TVS Motor (TVSL) reported a topline growth of 26.6% YoY, supported by a 19.8% YoY volume growth. TVSL's volume was higher than the industry's, driven by new product launches and an aggressive distribution expansion. The volume growth was largely led by 3-wheelers, scooters, and exports, which rose 31.7%, 46.9% and 25.8%, respectively. Margin profile was marginally better than estimated. This was due to the price hikes and improvement in product mix. We expect margins to sustain / improve from these levels. Improvement in product mix, coupled with operational efficiency, will support / expand margin profile as witnessed in the current quarter results. We expect TVSL volume growth to remain in the mid-teens and to continue to outperform the industry. This is likely to be driven by the strong portfolio of products across segments. We retain Accumulate, with a target price of ₹ 599, based on 25x FY2021 earnings.

Volume growth from premium segment and exports

TVSL's volume growth in the executive and premium segment was better than in the entry level products, such as moped. With the new launches, such as NTORQ, receiving better-than-expected acceptance and exports outpacing the domestic sales, volume outlook remains strong. NTORQ's cumulative sales on a YTD basis was 177,890 units (162,276 units in domestic market), 17% of TVSL's total scooter sales units and a market share of 3.2%. Given this, the market share of TVSL YTD rose from 16.23% last year, to 18.45%, while the export market share grew 18.47%, as compared to 17.14% on a YTD.

Improving product mix to aid margins

As higher growth is expected from the scooter and export segment, we expect realizations to improve consistently. TVSL has taken constant price hikes to negate the impact of an increase in raw material cost. TVSL increased prices by nearly ₹ 300 per unit across major models in Q4FY19. As concerns about rising raw material prices fade, we believe TVSL is better positioned to improve its margin trajectory, as compared to other competitors. As major launches are almost over, we believe proportion of higher margin products will rise and aid margins.

Valuation

With higher-than-the industry volume outlook and stable margin profile, TVSL remains our preferred pick in the 2W space. Revenue growth more than volume growth, with increase in realizations by 5.7% YoY was largely due to a favorable product mix. This also reaffirms our faith in the business model of TVSL. Focus on premium bikes and scooter segment for both, domestic and exports, will help TVSL keep out of the pricing war. The slowdown witnessed in the scooter segment at the industry level is a short-term disruption, and we expect this to improve driven by new product launches and stabilization in ownership cost. Short term macro factors can weigh down on valuations. However, the higher valuations affirm the business model, which focuses rightly on its product pipeline and segments. We rollover valuations to FY2021. Retain accumulate with a target price of ₹ 599.

Concall Key Takeaways

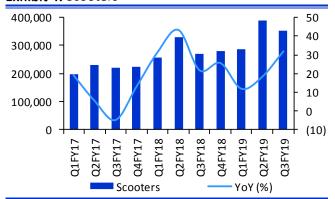

- TVSL took price hike of ~0.6% in Q3FY19 taking YTD price hike to ~0.9%. This increase relates largely to price hike taken on account of impact of material cost.
- TVSL took another marginal price hike of ₹ 300 per unit for select models, like Apache and Radeon, in the start of Q4FY19.
- Management expects scooters to outperform growth rates in the segment.
 Current slowdown in the scooter sales segment is largely due to price competition and other disruptions.
- Export USD to INR realizations for TVSL during Q3FY19 were at ~71.5.
- TVSL has already started supplying most of the models with CBS and ABS, and Apache is expected to be available with ABS version shortly.
- TVSL has guided for capex of ₹ 7bn for FY19. TVSL has already done capex of ~₹ 5bn on YTD basis.
- TVSL currently exports to ~64 countries. Approximately 12-18 months are required to penetrate a new geography.
- Stability of oil prices and currency in the targeted export regions is aiding exports growth. TVSL management expects to outpace the industry growth rate with regards to export.
- Other expenditure is not comparable with previous year, due to netting of some of the charges to revenue.
- TVS Credit caters to ~50% of retail finance of the total credit for TVSL (total retail finance at ~52% as compared to 45% in Q2FY19).
- TVSL management expects Radeon to do significantly better moving ahead. It is expected to clock close to 20,000 units in Jan'19 as compared to 11,882 units in Dec'19. On YTD basis, Radeon sales were at 50,407 units.
- TVSL management expects to be ready with BS VI complaint variants much before the regulatory requirements.
- TVSL is also expected to launch new models prior to implementation of BS VI norms.
- TVSL management declined to comment on issue of royalty payment to the promoter group.
